

Skyline Solar is a responsible, mixed-use agriculture and solar energy project located on private property in Keezletown in Rockingham County. The 73 MW project will be located on approximately 380 acres and is committed to preserving the agricultural character of the County.

Energix, the project owner, is one of the leading utility-scale solar developers in Virginia. We develop, construct, own, and operate solar projects and remove them after their useful life. Skyline is a dual use project committed to agricultural preservation. The project will preserve existing turkey operations on site, house beehives from a local beekeeper, and partner with local farmers to allow for sheep grazing between and under the panels.

Skyline Solar will provide several benefits to the community:

CLEAN, RELIABLE ENERGY

Skyline will produce domestic, affordable, environmentally friendly energy to the Keezletown community. The project will offset approximately 108,000 tons of CO₂, which is equivalent to emissions produced by 21,000 homes for one year.

ONGOING REVENUE

The project is expected to generate approximately $8.8 million in tax revenue over the anticipated lifetime of 35 years. This money can be used to benefit numerous county services with no strain on public infrastructure.

RESPONSIBLE NEIGHBOR

Unlike many other types of development, solar projects are quiet and responsible neighbors that generate no pollution, noise, odor, or traffic after construction. The project will be screened from roads and houses with trees, shrubs, and topography.

JOBS

Skyline Solar will create approximately 240 well-paying construction jobs during construction and provide a boost to local hospitality businesses. We are members of the Harrisonburg – Rockingham Chamber of Commerce and will prioritize hiring local contractors for the construction, operation, and maintenance of Skyline Solar.
